

April Fool's Day started in France in 1564. The king of France changed New Year's Day from April 1st to January 1st, but some people continued to celebrate the beginning of the year on April 1st. So the rest of the people played jokes on them and fooled them with lies.

January was finally the winner but this strange custom travelled to other countries as well, and people called it "April Fool's Day".

We still keep this custom alive and on April 1st each year we fool each other with lies and jokes.
